

Rutgers University – Camden: Full-time Transfer Student Retention Summary

This report on first to third term retention for full-time fall transfer students contains data on 5,288 individual Rutgers–Camden full-time fall undergraduate transfer students who attended Rutgers–Camden full-time their first semester during the ten-year period between fall 2003 and fall 2012. A student is considered “retained” if they returned the subsequent fall semester and “not retained” if they did not return the following fall semester.

More likely to be retained at Rutgers–Camden

- White students
- Students who have an Associate degree
- New Jersey residents
- Students from the NJ01 and NJ02 EPS Markets (see page 2)
- Students who live 6-10 miles from campus
- Students in on-campus programs
- Business and Social Sciences majors (at admissions)
- Students with a declared admissions major
- Students who file a FAFSA
- Students with Work Study in their first year
- Students who participate in tutoring during the first year

Less likely to be retained at Rutgers–Camden

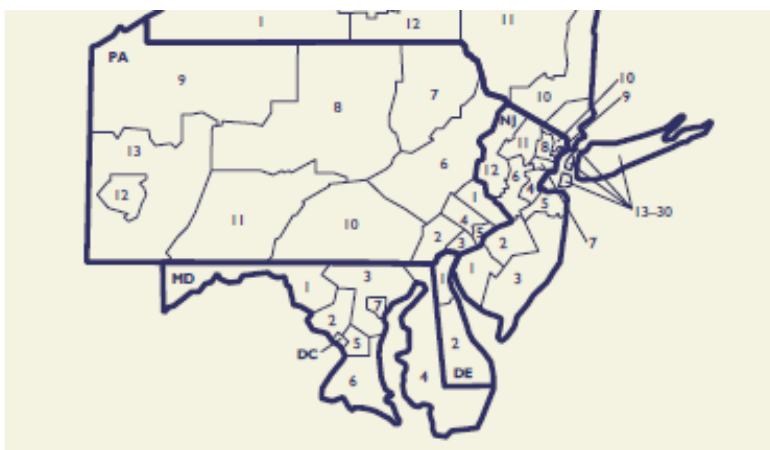

- Hispanic and “Other” students
- Students without an Associate degree
- Out-of-State and Unknown Residency students
- Students from New Jersey outside of the NJ 01-03 EPS Markets & out-of-state students (see page 2)
- Students who live 51-100 & > 500 mi from campus
- Students in off-campus programs
- Nursing, Student Designed, and Unknown admissions majors
- Students with an undeclared admission major
- Students who do not file a FAFSA
- Students without Work Study in their first year
- Students who do not participate in tutoring during their first year

Non-Significant Comparisons

- Gender, Age, First Generation Status, EFC Band, Need Band, Pell Grant in the first year, on/off campus housing in the first year, TRiO participation in the first year

Note: All statistical comparisons are based on chi-square tests of significance between groups (e.g. students who file FAFSA versus students who do not file) and do not take into account other factors that can affect outcomes.

NJ EPS Markets

Geographic Market Name	EPS Code
New Jersey (NJ)
1. Southern Jersey	NJ01
2. Camden and Burlington County	NJ02
3. Jersey Shore and Pinelands	NJ03
4. Middlesex County	NJ04
5. Monmouth County	NJ05
6. Somerset and Mercer Counties	NJ06

First-to-Third Term Retention by Unit:

- 77.3% were retained within the Camden College of Arts and Sciences
- 89.3% were retained within the School of Business – Camden
- 87.9% were retained within School of Nursing – Camden
- 70.2% were retained within University College – Camden

Students who are retained to their third term have:

- Significantly higher mean first-year GPAs (3.11 versus 2.25)

When students leave before their second year, where do they go?

The top 5 institutions for students who enrolled elsewhere in their third term are Camden County College (66), Burlington County College (34), Gloucester County College (19), Rowan University (16), and Richard Stockton College of New Jersey (15).

Note: All statistical comparisons are based on chi-square tests of significance between groups (e.g. students who file FAFSA versus students who do not file) and do not take into account other factors that can affect outcomes.